Elementary students wind up school year with awards

Elk Point Elementary School wound up the school year with the presentation of well over 200 plaques, trophies, awards and certificates to deserving students.

This year for the first time, a Regional Division Award was presented to a student for exceptional achievement. School trustee Ray Danyluk acknowledged the accomplishment of Grade 6 student Erica Lind, who was one of the winners in a nation-wide creative writing contest.

This year's Bessalco Memorial Awards for participation in sports, good sportsmanship, athletic ability and accomplishment went to Grade 3 students Craig Dallaire and Mark Brodwin, and to Grade 5 students Travis Lindquist and Brandon Holthe.

Intramural sports awards went to the members of the Panthers, who far outdistanced their competition by collecting 841 points through the year. Coach Rob Boyd also recognized the referees and room representatives for their efforts.

Citizenship awards went to 36 students, while 14 students collected Most Improved awards. French awards went to Cindy-Lynn Harper and Ashley Murfin in Grade 4, Valerie Friesen and Jan-Marie Kozicky in Grade 5 and Jonathan Buryn and Dana Tymofichuk in Grade 6.

Twenty-three students in Grades 4 to 6 collected Music Honor Roll awards, while an even dozen from Grades 5 and 6 accepted Science Fair awards.

Special Education awards went to Donald Turner and Darelleen Dearden for their achievements during the school year.

Librarian Myrna Fedorus reported an excellent year during which all classes had a perfect record of returning books on time. She presented certificates to students who read all 20 titles in the Lethbridge Reading Program during the year, and awards to three Grade 6 students, Allison Hammond, Dana Tymofichuk and Kristin Campbell, who had read all 20 during each of the past three years. She also presented an award to Steven Kozina, who excelled in the library reading program during all his six years in the school.

A total of 69 students accepted Academic Honor awards, and 17 students who were designated as the best all-around students in their grades received the prestigious Grace Franks Awards.

Principal Don Conrad wished all the students a wonderful summer, and urged those Grade 6 students who will be moving to F. G. Miller High School in the fall to uphold their outstanding records of scholastic achievement and exemplary attitudes in their new school.

Celebrate Canada! Tomorrow's the big day of fun!

Elk Point is all set for tomorrow's Canada Day celebrations, with another successful Canada Day Gospel Concert going down in history this past Sunday, and a whole lineup of activities for the entire family to enjoy on July 1.

Start out with the Chamber of Commerce Pancake Breakfast, 1/2 block north of 50th Avenue on 50th Street, where Chamber volunteers will be serving up pancakes, sausages, coffee and juice from 8:00 to 10:00 a.m.

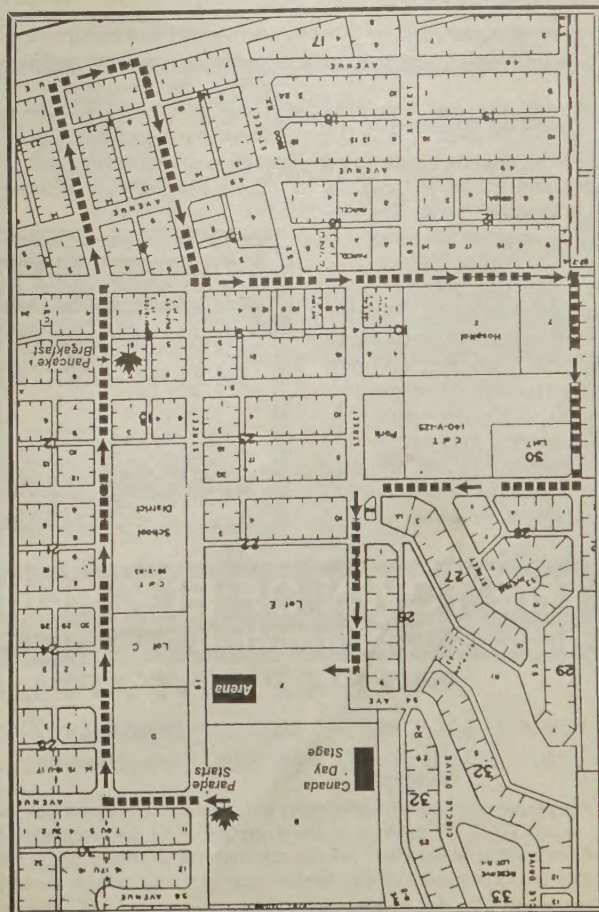

Then it's time for parade participants to head on up to the A. G. Ross Arena with their floats and decorated bicycles, ready to line up for judging at 10:30 a.m. The parade starts off on its 17-block route at 11:00 a.m.

After the parade, come up to the arena and check out the huge Craft Show and Sale, starting at noon. The kids will enjoy entertainment and games with Popcorn the Clown from noon to 2:00 p.m. and the FunQuest Amusements family midway north of the arena, which opens at noon with games and rides to entertain the younger set. Face painting is also on the agenda.

Enjoy beef on a bun at the arena and head on over to the Christian Community Church booth for some of their excellent homemade pie for dessert. Later in the day, plan to enjoy a piece of Canada Day birthday cake.

The afternoon stage show starts at 2:00 p.m. on the outdoor Canada Day Stage northwest of the arena, with a salute to the 125th anniversary of the RCMP followed by a variety of entertainment, including singing, dancing and more.

Come celebrate Canada's 131st birthday Elk Point style! We're going to have a great time!

Musical treat starts off Canada Day celebrations

The small but enthusiastic crowd which attended the Canada Day Gospel Concert Sunday night was in for a real treat, with two very talented young local vocalists opening the show and country gospel singer and songwriter Darryl Fraess and his band providing an hour and a half of great entertainment.

Sarah Schade was first on the program, singing a lovely rendition of "Daddy's Hands." Michelle Friesen then took over the microphone for two beautifully performed numbers, Celine Dion's "My Heart Will Go On" and "If This World," originally performed by Jaci Velasquez.

Darryl Fraess, who lives and works at Birch Bay Ranch near Sherwood Park, was accompanied by his band, Desert Duel in over 20 numbers which ranged from interpretations of Bible verses to Christian adaptations of familiar country hits, along with many of his original songs.

"I'm A Brand New Man" explored Fraess' joy over life as a Christian, while "Lonely Heart" spoke about who we are in Christ. "Count on Me" told listeners that whatever we go through, we can count on

God, in a rollicking rhythm that had listeners clapping along. "When Love Comes Your Way" was a gentle tune written for Fraess' friends' wedding, while "Hang On To Your Hats!" was a lively tune featuring the wonderful wailing harmonica of band member Kerri Klontz and the joyful message, "We're going up when the Lord comes back!"

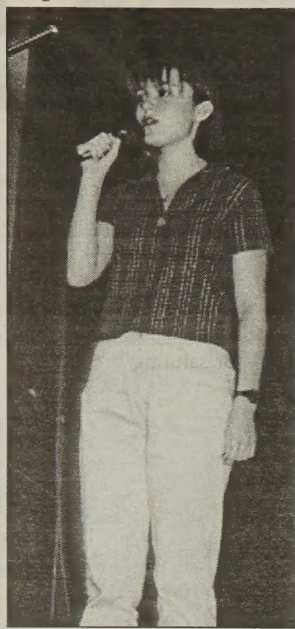

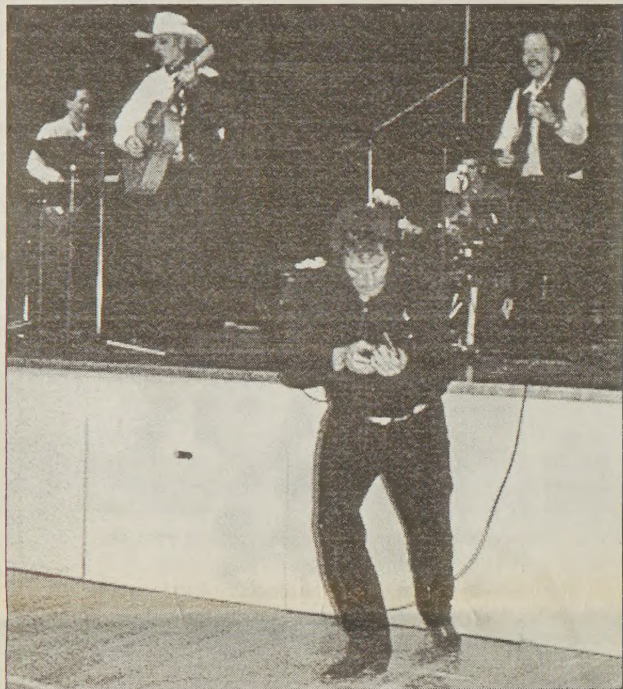

Fraess' own country guitar picking started off a bluesy number based on the biblical tale of Paul and Silas, while "Cover Me" was introduced by Fraess as a "country worship song" and "Closed Minded Man" said his soul was closed to Satan's lies.

Only a few words were changed in Fraess' adaptation of Randy Travis' "Deeper Than the Holler," Paul Overstreet's "Dig Another Well" and Bruce Carroll's "Cross Your Heart" to give them a gospel message. In another number, he took a familiar chorus, "Jesus is the answer, Jesus is the way" and wrote some thought provoking verses to go with it.

Fraess' music goes from slow ballads, such as one entitled "Lately," to the rockabilly takeoff on "Blue Suede Shoes" which completed the concert and left the audience with the message, "You can do anything, because the victory belongs to you," with the versatile Kerri Klontz adding a little impromptu two-stepping to his harmonica accompaniment.

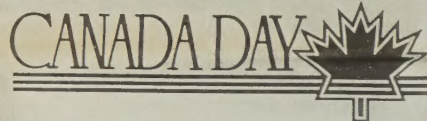

The band members are Rob Salomons on base, Craig Reid on drums, Stan Anderson as backup singer and lead guitar, and Klontz on mandolin and harmonica.

MICHELLE FRIESEN - (above) sang Celine Dion's "My Heart Will Go On" and Jaci Velasquez' "If this World" at the concert.

SARAH SCHADE - (left) sang "Daddy's Hands"

HARMONICA PLAYER - Kerri Klontz (far left) has "happy feet" as he dances to Darryl Fraess and the Desert Duel Band.

Three businesses targeted by thieves in Elk Point

By Peter Sherstan, Sgt.
Elk Point RCMP

During the early morning hours of Thursday, June 25, person(s) unknown attempted break and enters at three Elk Point establishments. The suspect(s) successfully entered First Class Office Supplies after breaking a window on the alley side of the building. Their initial attempts to enter through the back door were stymied but extensive damage was caused to the door and lock. The suspects made off with a small amount of cash and exited through the front door.

Attempts were also made to enter the Elk Point Hotel where a door was damaged, and the Fire Hall where two large windows were broken. However, it appears that whatever reason, neither location was entered.

There has been an increase in property related offences over the past few months in the Town of Elk Point and the RCMP is interested in any information that could assist in identifying the person(s) involved in these incidents.

Our very own home of Canada!

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

On Wednesday, July 1st, we will be celebrating the birth of our home country of Canada. It was July 1, 1867, that Canada became a country. Thus our home country will be 131 years old this July. Happy Birthday Canada!

There is something about living in our home country of Canada that brings me feelings of joy and pride. Several years ago when I attended University in Provo, Utah, I was able to observe how Americans were taught pride in their country. Each morning as I walked on campus toward my 8 am class, everyone would stop where they were and stand at attention as the American Flag was raised and the National Anthem was played at 7:50 am.

Some people would even put their hands on their hearts. Over the four years that I was there, this daily morning ritual never changed. I was very impressed.

Mind you, some of us are old enough to remember the days of our elementary and high school days, were raising the flag — or saluting the flag and singing O Canada was the daily ritual of starting school.

Even with these rituals, the question becomes: "How do we feel about our home country of Canada? To give a quote from Stephen R.

Covey, he said "People behave more out of their feelings than out of their thinking." In other being Canadians.

Two years ago when the Elk Point Community Choir went to Europe, we had a chance to let people know who we were. The name of the Choir was on our jackets as well as the Canadian Flag. As we met people, we gave them the Canada Flag pins. You should have seen these people! They were excited to receive them. People gave big smiles and some had tears in their eyes. Thus we were able to see for ourselves how others felt about us as Canadians.

How do we feel about ourselves as Canadians? Some of us are a little shy in acknowledging and expressing our feelings about being Canadians. But, I am sure most of us are proud to be Canadians. So, come celebrate Canada Day with us on July 1st.

Have you read the ad in this paper? It tells you what is happening when and where. Some secrets — like our mystery guest on the Canada Day stage and the special theme prizes to be given away ... you will just have to attend the celebration to learn about these. I will tell you though, that the Ukrainian Dancers and the Toe Tappers are some of the performers. And ... food ... Beef on a Bun in the Arena — pies by the Christian Community Church and oh the Craft Show in the Arena. You've just got to come and see!

words, it is how we feel about our very own home country of Canada that determines how we will respond to ourselves as

A trivia challenge for Canada Day

Courtesy Stoddart Publishing and Five Minute Challenge #1, by Ken Weber.

1. Canada Day used to be Dominion Day, but the date has always been July 1. Whose idea was it to pick July as our big day?

2. The whole world knows that Canada's flag proudly displays a maple leaf. What type of maple: red? sugar? Manitoba? silver?

3. In Japan, Anne of Green Gables is almost a national obsession. By what name is she generally known there?

4. Coach Toe' Blake didn't want to let Jacques Plante wear a mask in goal. What NHL great, as a coach, wouldn't let his goalie dive?

5. Donald Smith hammered the Last Spike at Craigallachie, B.C. in 1885. It's often called the Golden Spike. Is it made of gold?

6. Our first three PMs were John A. MacDonald, Alexander Mackenzie, John J.C. Abbott. One of the names above is spelled incorrectly. Which one?

7. The model for Gilbert & Sullivan's Modern Major-General was Sir Garnet Wolseley. In what Canadian conflict was he a commander-in-chief?

8. The New Brunswick government fired Abraham Gesner in 1842. He has the last laugh, however. What did he invent in 1846?

9. Boothia Peninsula, NWT is the northernmost mainland point in North America. It's named after industrialist Felix Booth. What did he make to earn this honor?

10. O Canada! Our home and native land ... Of course you can sing the rest. How does the second verse begin?

Helping the overweight child

By Carmen Skrypichayko
Dietician

Obesity is a growing problem and children are not an exception. Statistics show that increasing numbers of Canadian children are overweight with everything from video games to too much junk food getting the blame. So how do we help our kids maintain a healthy weight?

Promote an active lifestyle. Physical activity is a major contributor to weight control because it results in increased energy expenditure. Involvement in organized sports not only is a social event but also ensures regular activity. Parents, set a good example by taking the stairs, walking to work and making time to exercise. Research shows that a family approach to a lifestyle change will have more success than when the only child is focused on.

Food intake is also key but diets are not the solution for children. Over-restriction can interfere with growth and development and may lead to eating disorders. Include a variety of foods daily and focus on including fruits and vegetables regularly. Follow Canada's Food Guide for Healthy Eating for portion sizes and recommended servings. Canada's Food Guide is designed for individuals between the ages of 4-65 years and is available at the Elk Point Health Centre.

Increased physical activity and healthy eating are the best ways to maintain a healthy body weight through all stages of the lifecycle.

Asthma and allergies campaign a success

Dear Editor:

The Alberta Lung Association wishes to extend a sincere thanks to many of your readers for their substantial contribution to our 1998 Asthma and Allergies Campaign.

Close to $1.1 million was raised province-wide, involving more than 25,000 volunteer canvassers. Our special thanks to the area coordinators, zone captains and canvassers from your region. Without their help, we couldn't have knocked on so many doors for donations. To the thousands who gave at the door — our sincere appreciation.

Your community has truly demonstrated that success can be achieved through team work. Asthma and allergies affects so many Albertans — and with the help of many people in your area we are more able to help those in need. Funds raised through this year's campaign will go towards asthma research and education programs.

Your readers should be proud!

The Pelechs in Paris — Part XI

By Sherry Pelech
World Traveler

The last day of our holidays. I can't believe it. There are still so many things we wanted to see yet. More museums, (well, maybe that's just me), Napoleon's Tomb, The Catacombs, the site of the Bastille, (although they tell me there is actually nothing left there), the incredible cathedral in Chartres, Vimy. We need another month at least.

We spent the day doing laundry and packing and re-packing and re-packing — "Get your gaunch and sweaters out of my suitcase. I don't have even enough room for my own stuff."

This being April 1 - April Fool's Day - we went to one of the local chocolate shops and bought luscious and elaborate chocolate fish to take home to the kids. The observance of April Fool's Day started in France, after the reformed calendar was adopted in 1564. Until then, New Year's celebrations started March 21 and ended April 1. Those who continued to celebrate New Year's Day on April 1, were known as April Fool's. In France, the victim of a practical joke is called an April Fish.

I knew when we bought the chocolate fish that they were going to be miserable to pack — especially the one that looked like a fish skeleton made from white chocolate. The people in the shop packed the fish very carefully in boxes and put the boxes in a big bag. I took the bag as carry-on luggage onto the plane, handling it most delicately. Then I stored it gently in the overhead compartment. Naturally when we got home, what wasn't shattered, was melted.

Francois came home early from work and we all met Alexa at a movie theatre. We went to see "The Man in the Iron Mask". It was a fitting end of our trip. We started by touring the chateau at 'Vaux Le Vicomte' and ended by watching the movie that was filmed there. It was a good movie, the enjoyment only slightly marred by the running commentary from Francois and Marshal. "Saw that room." "Picked up chestnuts under those trees." "That scene was filmed on top of the big hill." Hey look! There's the ballroom."

After the movie we walked along the 'Champs Elysses' and had tea and 'cafe au lait' at a sidewalk cafe. Everything one last time.

The next morning, Francois drove us to the Charles De Gaulle Airport and saw us safely on board before going to work. We were thrilled to discover that we were going to share our airplane with three dozen teen-age students who were going to spend Easter holidays in Toronto. Eight hours trapped in a plane with a surging sea of hormones! They necked in the aisles, leapt seats, had pillow fights, ignored the seat belt sign and hated and/or didn't get enough of the meals. Their chaperones just sat there and downed drink after drink — which seemed as reasonable a way as any to cope.

This time we crossed the Atlantic Ocean in daylight. We saw a gigantic icebergs that looked like little white pin heads stuck in a huge blue map. The coast of Labrador is very bleak. We flew for hours over rocky hills dotted with lakes and rivers before we saw any sign of human habitation. It's probably the only time getting into Toronto will feel like coming home.

We had a three hour wait in the Toronto Airport and another three hour flight to Edmonton. Some people think that June 21 is the longest day of the year. What do they know? This year April Fool's Day was 35 hours long.

Our new Saskatchewan brochures have finally arrived. Along with the accommodation, resort and campground guide and the vacation guide, they have again this year published an Events Guide. This has a list of all the events and attractions happening in Saskatchewan from March 1998 to February 1999.

And now to change the subject, here are a couple of do's and don'ts to keep in mind if any of you are planning on organizing a 'Mystery Tour'. DO - surprise the people you are taking on the tour. DON'T - surprise the places you are visiting.

We had a tour group stop in the other day. A bunch of people who wanted to see the sights of Elk Point and area. Their 'organizer' wanted to know if they could tour the Salt Plant.

"Did you book a tour, ahead of time?" we asked.

"Well, no. But you can do that now."

"Okay, we'll try." The nice people at the Salt Plant said they like to have at least a week's notice. "We're sorry, but they can't manage it today."

"Well then we'll have to go out to the Fort George / Buckingham House Interpretive Center."

"Did you arrange that ahead of time?"

The 'organizer' looked at us like we were missing a few vital components. "No, of course not! We're on a 'Mystery Tour'. What do you have planned for us instead of the Salt Plant?"

A couple of ideas sprang to mind, but we beat them back. "How about the museum?"

"We'll have to discuss it. How much does it cost?"

"Two dollars a person."

"I don't know. I don't think anybody wants to spend that much."

After an animated discussion, about half of them decided to see the museum. They drifted across the road. We got to the door of the first building and a couple of people wandered off to sit in the shade. We went into the 'General Store'. One person looked around and said, "We have to go now. The bus will leave us."

"We said, 'The bus is not going to leave you.'"

"Oh yes. The bus will leave us." A few more people wandered off.

We did the whole museum complex in under ten minutes, losing more people every step of the way.

Then the 'organizer' asked, "So, have you arranged for us to see the Interpretive Center yet? You haven't? Well, you better hurry up. We're on our way out there right now."

So we phone the Interpretive Center. "You've got a tour group arriving any minute now."

"Oh!" Surprise. "What did you have in mind for them?"

"Nothing legal. Oops. Sorry."

We mean, we don't have anything in mind. What do you have for them?"

"Uh, we'll arrange something."

It was the same as the museum. Some didn't get off the bus, some drifted in and signed the book and drifted out again. A few of them did complete the whole of a very nicely conducted tour.

A few days later one of the people involved in entertaining the 'Mystery Tour' group came in to see us.

"Say," they said, "What was with that bunch of people you brought us the other day? They didn't seem too interested in anything."

"We think they were all suffering from Attention Deficit Disorder."

"What?"

"Attention Deficit Disorder. A.D.D."

"Is that the group they were with?"

Pause. "Yes. It is."

It's not that we want to discourage tourism or anything. ("Say Maw. You best fetch down the squirrel gun. Some of them thar' too-rists is tryna sneak in again.") But not everyone wants to be surprised.

Summer Reading Program '98

By Melissa Easthope
Elk Point Public Library

As children join the Summer Reading program this summer, you will hear cheering in Elk Point Public Library. Why? Because as they participate in learning about different sports, and while playing them they will be cheering each other on. After all, the theme for this year's Summer Reading Program is Take Me Out to the Library.

Hi, I am Melissa Easthope, the 1998 Summer Reading Program Coordinator. After 2 months of planning, we are ready for the festivities to begin. So as it is said, let the games begin.

The Library is now taking registration for the Tuesday group, children's ages 3 years to 6 years old and the Thursday group of children's ages 6 years and up. Each days session begins at 1:30. We will also be holding movie matinees every Friday afternoon starting July the 3rd at 1:00.

We start the program off, with both afternoon groups exploring winter sports. Who knows, we may even have a snowball fight. Some of the other sports we will be discovering this summer include: baseball, volleyball, soccer, kite flying, tennis, track and field events and what would be a Summer Reading Program without water games.

So take your child out to the Library this summer and discover sports through books, games, crafts and much, much more.

The Summer Reading Program will run from July 7 to August 30.

Summer Reading Program starts July 7 and 9!

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

Storytime has wrapped up for the summer and although we didn't get to have the water fight as scheduled (darn that weather!!) we did pass a pleasant morning trying out the new bubble blowers. Don't forget the Summer Reading Program starts July 7th and 9th.

The latest in juvenile nonfiction:

In 101 Wacky Computer Jokes by J. B. and G. C. Stamper you can tickle your funnybone with groaners like this: Where does Spider-Man find a date? (Answer at the end of the column.)

Tiger Woods: Golf's Young

Master by S. A. Kramer is a look at the life of the newest star in the golfing world, the young player to win the Masters. A Step Into Reading, Step Four book.

Get Started: Stamp Collecting for Canadian Kids by Elizabeth MacLeod shows the beginning stamp collector how to get started in this interesting hobby.

And in adult nonfiction:

On the Road With Your Pet contains listings for more than 4000 Mobil-rated lodgings in North America for travellers with dogs, cats and other pets as well as a section on pet travel tips.

The Canadian Mutual Fund Bible: a Complete Guide by Mark Newsome and Thomas Holyoake Box is intended to assist the reader in understanding Canadian mutual funds.

Great Books for Boys by Kathleen Odean is an annotated bibliography of more than 600 books that may be of interest to boys aged 2 to 14. The list is broken down by age level and subject. It is a good book to help to get boys to keep on reading and girls might find the titles interesting.

The Gluten-Free Gourmet Cooks Fast and Healthy by Bette Hagman emphasizes time-saving mixes aimed at the working family, how to use bread machines successfully, and cooking with less fat and sugar — all without gluten.

The Slow Cooker Ready and Waiting Cookbook by Rick Rodgers contains over 150 recipes adapted from ethnic and American dishes for the slow cooker from appetizers through to desserts.

IN MEMORIAM

SMITH, Violet

In loving memory of our dear Granny, Violet Smith, who passed away July 2, 1993.

*To a good life came a peaceful end,
She died as she lived, everyone's friend,
Upright and just in all her ways,
Loving and kind to the end of her days.*

*We saw her suffer, heard her sigh,
We could do nothing, but sit close by,
We have lost, but Heaven has gained,
One of the best the world contained.*

Forever in our hearts and always on our minds,

Your grandson,
Daniel & Marge Smith and family

Card of Thanks

STUPARYK

Annie, wife, and family of Mike Stuparyk, wish to thank everyone who supported us during the days prior to and after the passing of a very dear husband, father and grandfather.

We thank all family and friends who visited us, phoned us, brought food, sent sympathy cards, mass cards, and made donations to the Heart and Stroke Foundations. You all made this time easier for us.

Thanks to Father Dobriansky, his assistant, and cantors. We appreciate and thank the Ladies of Holy Eucharist Ukrainian Catholic Parish who served coffee after the prayer service, and also to the ladies of Elk Point Senior Citizens Centre for serving lunch after the interment. We also wish to thank members of Northern Valley St. John Baptist Church who helped us choose an interment site.

Mike Stuparyk's family considers everyone at the services as honorary pallbearers, however, a special thanks to those who actively participated as pallbearers, flagbearers, and crossbearers.

We acknowledge and thank Dr. Ramful and staff at Elk Point Hospital as well as those at the U. of A. Hospital who attended to Mike during his final hours.

The consideration and support by Yewchin's Chapel Service in St. Paul will always be remembered.

In Memoriam

BERG, Dennis John

In loving memory of our Dear Dennis who left us July 2, 1989.

*"We often sit and think of you,
And of the day you left,
Many nights we dream of you,
And many nights we weep.
We thought of you with love today,
But that is nothing new.
We thought about you yesterday,
And the day before that too.
Our hearts still ache with sadness,
And secret tears still flow.
For that it means to lose you,
No one will ever know.
They say time heals all sorrows,
And helps us to forget.
But time has only shown,
How much we miss you yet.
So it is very hard to write these words,
When our eyes are full of tears.
We miss you more every day Dennis,
Throughout these passing years."
We love you Den*

Lovingly remembered by all your family.

In Memoriam

CONRAD, JOE

In loving memory of my dear husband, Joe (father and grandfather) who passed away July 1, 1996.

*I remember the day I met you
And the day God made you mine.
I remember the day He took you away
I will 'til the end of time.
But through all the tears & heartache,
There is one thing that makes me glad,
That you chose me to share with you,
Those precious years that we had.
My lips cannot tell you how I miss you,
My heart cannot tell you what to say
God alone knows how I miss you,
In a home that is lonesome today.
Your smile is gone forever
And your face I cannot touch,
Still I have my precious memories,
I love you so very much.
Your memory is my keepsake
With which I'll never part,
God has you in his keeping,
I have you in my heart.
Your true love forever,
Rest in Peace.*

Your loving wife, Ann & Family.

Rain delays Sox weekend

By Doug Bassett
Elk Point Minor Ball

School's out, report cards are out, and the pressure is off as far as exams are concerned. Now these guys, who call themselves the Sox, can concentrate on playing baseball. The journey of a lifetime is just starting for these boys, who in one month from now will make history when they will be hosting the provincial Midget "A" finals right here in Elk Point.

Not very often do you get a select group of boys that gel and bond as well as these guys. But it takes more than that to win. It takes practice, practice, practice. Rehearsing of plays over and over until you can do it perfectly, every time, until tough plays become routine.

Time, commitment and dedication. How many times have you seen good teams, loaded with talent, that fall apart in the end because they did not put in the commitment or dedication needed to be a winner? Because when the time comes, that one play may win or lose the game.

Basic baseball is nothing complicated. You don't have to be Einstein to figure this game out. Ninety percent of the game of baseball is routine. Simple throwing and catching the ball. But how many times have you seen a team fall apart in the middle of the game, start to panic and throw the game away? Not these boys, this year. The Sox are pumped, they're ready and they have their heads into the game.

This may be the only chance for some of these guys, playing in their last year of minor ball, to get this close to the glory of winning the crown jewel, the provincial gold. It's not out of reach for these guys. It just takes hard work.

The long drive to Oyen was in vain on Friday night, when early Saturday morning the rain started and continued all day. The tournament director had a tough decision: to cancel the weekend, or make everyone stay for Sunday and hope to play some of the games? The boys returned home Saturday afternoon. The weekend of July 18 and 19 is reserved for rained-out games.

Tomorrow, on July 1, the Sox will make up one of the postponed games when they hope to meet the Edmonton Warriors and Oyen, right here in their own park. Watch for signs as to game times. Then it's off to Athabasca for Saturday and Sunday.

Rain seemed to be the name of the game this past week. Earlier in the week on Wednesday night, just to stay tuned up, the Sox played in Bonnyville against their rivals, the provincial "AA" team, that beat them out of the league. The boys played three innings before a big bang, the sky opened up and washed out the game. The team manager was anxious to see his new pitcher, Nathan Mathews, in action, and although it was only three innings, it was long enough to see the new guy's stuff. Now he knows what this kid can do when it counts. Looking very promising in right field as well, Ben Mathews made two great catches. Leading at that point by two runs, the Sox, with some great plays in the field, proved that they were focused.

Take a look at the new gazebo attached to the front of the concession the next time you're out at the rec grounds. Thanks to the Lions Club, everyone will have some shelter from the sun (or rain) during the provincials. Work is now taking place now on a new elevated scorekeeper's booth that is being constructed behind the midget diamond and will be ready for the big show.

This week is a good opportunity to catch up on our player profiles featuring some of our finest.

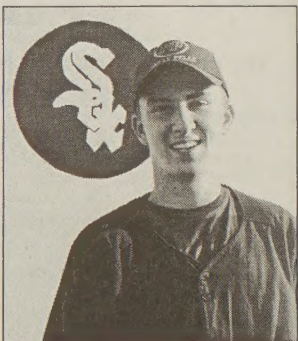

Player Profiles

Shaun Moroziuk

Birthday: Jan. 1, 1980
Age: 18
Height: 5'8"
Weight: 175 lbs.
Nickname: Barney
Position: Centre Field
Favorite Player: Ricky Henderson

Shaun's the name, speed's his game. Speed in the outfield, speed on the baseline. Very few players can track down a ball like Shaun who has lots of ground to cover playing in the big centre field. With a batting average of .429, you know that when Barney's on base with his speed, he will guarantee you runs across the plate. Returning from college for the summer to be with the team, Shaun only played in six

Jon Yake

Birthday: May 1, 1982
Age: 16
Height: 5'9"
Weight: 150 lbs.

Nickname: You're the Man
Position: Pitcher, Second Base
Favorite Player: Greg Maddux

Off to a slow start this year, "You're the Man" is very patient and hard to pitch to, taking a lot of walks. Last year during provincials, Jon finished over .300 batting, so the potential is there. Still only a first year midget, Jon's specialty is pitching hard to hit junk balls.

Following the CPCA

By Cathy Ockerman
CPCA Reporter

The Canadian Professional Chuckwagon Association made its annual stop in Meadow Lake, Saskatchewan this past weekend. Meadow Lake is a four day show for the CPCA as it started on Thursday. It is also a show with four wagons to a heat where most shows are three wagons to a heat.

On the first night we saw Bert Croteau finish with the fastest time, Rod Salmond, Jim Knight and Roger Moore rounding up the top four. Doug Irvine finished 13th.

On Day 2, Neil Bowey recorded the fastest time of the day with Dennis MacGillivray, Brian Laboucane and Doug Irvine finishing second, third and fourth respectively.

Day 3 had a different top four once again. Wayne Dagg, Bert Croteau, Stu Napper and Rod Salmond finished with the four fastest times for the day. Doug Irvine finished 11th.

The times were tallied for the three days to see who would run for the Dash for Cash. Rod Salmond came out on top with the fastest combined time. Wayne Dagg had the second fastest time and Dennis MacGillivray and Brian Laboucane also had a chance in the Dash. Doug Irvine was edged out by Brian Laboucane with a 1/100 of a second time difference. Brian has been showing Doug the ropes in his rookie season.

The Dash for Cash was called off due to 3 inches of rain in less than 24 hours and the wagons did not run.

Kyle Lawrence and Doug Irvine teamed up to outride for George Stanley, Brian Laboucane and Stan Waddell this weekend. Kyle also outrides for Doug Irvine.

The chuckwagons head to the Calgary Stampede this coming weekend. The Stampede runs for ten days and then they're off for Cheyenne, Wyoming.

The top ten after this weekend are: 1. Dennis MacGillivray, 128.5 points; 2. Wayne Knight, 115; 3. Luke Tournier, 111; Roger Moore, 107; 5. Ray Mitsuing, 102; 6. Grant Preece, 102; 7. Rod Salmond, 97; 8. Bert Croteau, 95; 9. Doug Irvine, 93; Jim Knight, 82.

Ervin Quinney stands at 25th and George Stanley sits in 27th spot.
